Daniel J. Ruotolo, CPA, MS

Managing Partner, Ruotolo, Spewak & Co.
 Partner, Visions in Innovative Accounting

Dan leads the team at Ruotolo, Spewak & Co., a full service CPA firm that has been providing accounting, consulting and tax services to small and medium sized businesses and non-profit organizations throughout the Delaware Valley for more than 25 years. His experience working with not-for-profit companies has led to a skilled reputation and a practice that assists over 90 such organizations annually. The specifically-designed services include independent auditing, review and compilations as well as board meeting preparation, financial reporting and consulting. Also a certified trainer, Dan has provided numerous seminars on financial and management topics to peers and the public.

Dan's efforts within the non-profit sector extend beyond his accounting practice. He is a social entrepreneur and strong community advocate, receiving the Non-Profit Service Professional of the Year 2014 by the Non-Profit Development Center. Dan is the founder and chairman of Student Working Professionals and actively participates on several boards, including the Rowan University Accounting Advisory Board, Burlington County Workforce Development Board, Gloucester County Chamber of Commerce and others.

Lori McFadden

Managing Partner, Visions in Innovative Accounting

Lori is a leader in financial systems implementation having years of experience working with non-profit organizations and small businesses in New Jersey and Pennsylvania. She provides consulting, training and systems analysis to develop customized solutions suited to clients' bookkeeping and financial management services needs. Prior to joining VIA, she worked for Mattel, Inc. for 15 years. A certified QuickBooks ProAdvisor and trainer, Lori offers in-person and online training for companies throughout the tri-county area. She also teaches courses at Rowan University and Rutgers University-Camden and provides training as part of the Student Working Professionals (SWP) internship program.

Lori is well known for her volunteerism - professionally and personally. She is currently Treasurer of SWP and a member of the National Association of Professional Women, Burlington County Regional Chamber of Commerce and Gloucester County Chamber of Commerce, including its Faces of Business section. Her former roles have included Recreation President for Delanco Township, PTA President in Burlington County and Treasurer for Clique In, an anti-bullying organization.
